Recognising and Reporting Child Abuse Policy

Recognising Child Abuse

Under the Children First legislation it is a requirement to report any knowledge, belief, or reasonable suspicion that a child has been harmed, is being harmed, or is at risk of being harmed, to the statutory authorities. By working with young people, you have a duty of care to keep them safe; understanding child abuse and the procedures for if you have a concern, or if you receive a disclosure from a young person, will support you in your role. It is everyone's responsibility to keep young people safe. The statutory authorities have a threshold of harm for intervention of abuse; this is the level at which a concern must be reported.

"Harm" means, in relation to a child:

- (a) assault, ill-treatment or neglect of the child in a manner that seriously affects or is likely to seriously affect the child's health, development or welfare, or;
- (b) sexual abuse of the child.

A designated person should be informed if you witness anything that causes you concern; the following definitions have been taken from the Children First Guidance (ROI) and Co-Operating to Safeguard Children and Young People in Northern Ireland (NI):

Physical Abuse:

Physical Abuse is when someone deliberately hurts a child physically, or puts them at risk of being physically hurt. It may occur as a single incident or as a pattern of incidents. Examples of this might be hitting, pinching, burning etc. It is a reasonable concern if you believe the life of the young person is in imminent danger.

Emotional Abuse:

Emotional abuse is the systematic emotional or psychological ill-treatment of a child as part of the overall relationship between a caregiver and a child. A reasonable concern for the child's welfare would exist when the behaviour becomes typical of the relationship between the child and the parent or carer. In sport, bullying may also fall under the category of emotional abuse and may occur in the form of online bullying.

Neglect:

Neglect occurs when a child does not receive adequate care or supervision to the extent that the child is harmed physically or developmentally. This is commonly reported as deprivation of food, clothing, safety, hygiene or medical care. Over a period of time neglect can have a negative impact on a child's emotional and physical development. A reasonable concern for the child's welfare would exist when neglect becomes typical of the relationship between the child and the parent or carer.

Sexual Abuse:

Sexual abuse occurs when a child is used by another person for his or her gratification or sexual arousal or for that of others. It includes the child being involved in sexual acts (masturbation, fondling, oral or penetrative sex) or exposing the child to sexual activity directly or through pornography. Any concern about possible sexual abuse constitutes reasonable grounds for concern.

The following are noted in the Children First Guidance as being Reasonable Grounds For Concern:

- Evidence, for example an injury or behaviour, that is consistent with abuse and is unlikely to have been caused in any other way.
- Any concern about possible sexual abuse.
- Consistent signs that a child is suffering from emotional or physical neglect.
- A child saying or indicating by other means that he or she has been abused.
- Admission or indication by an adult or a child of an alleged abuse they committed.
- An account from a person who saw the child being abused

Responding to an allegation from a young person

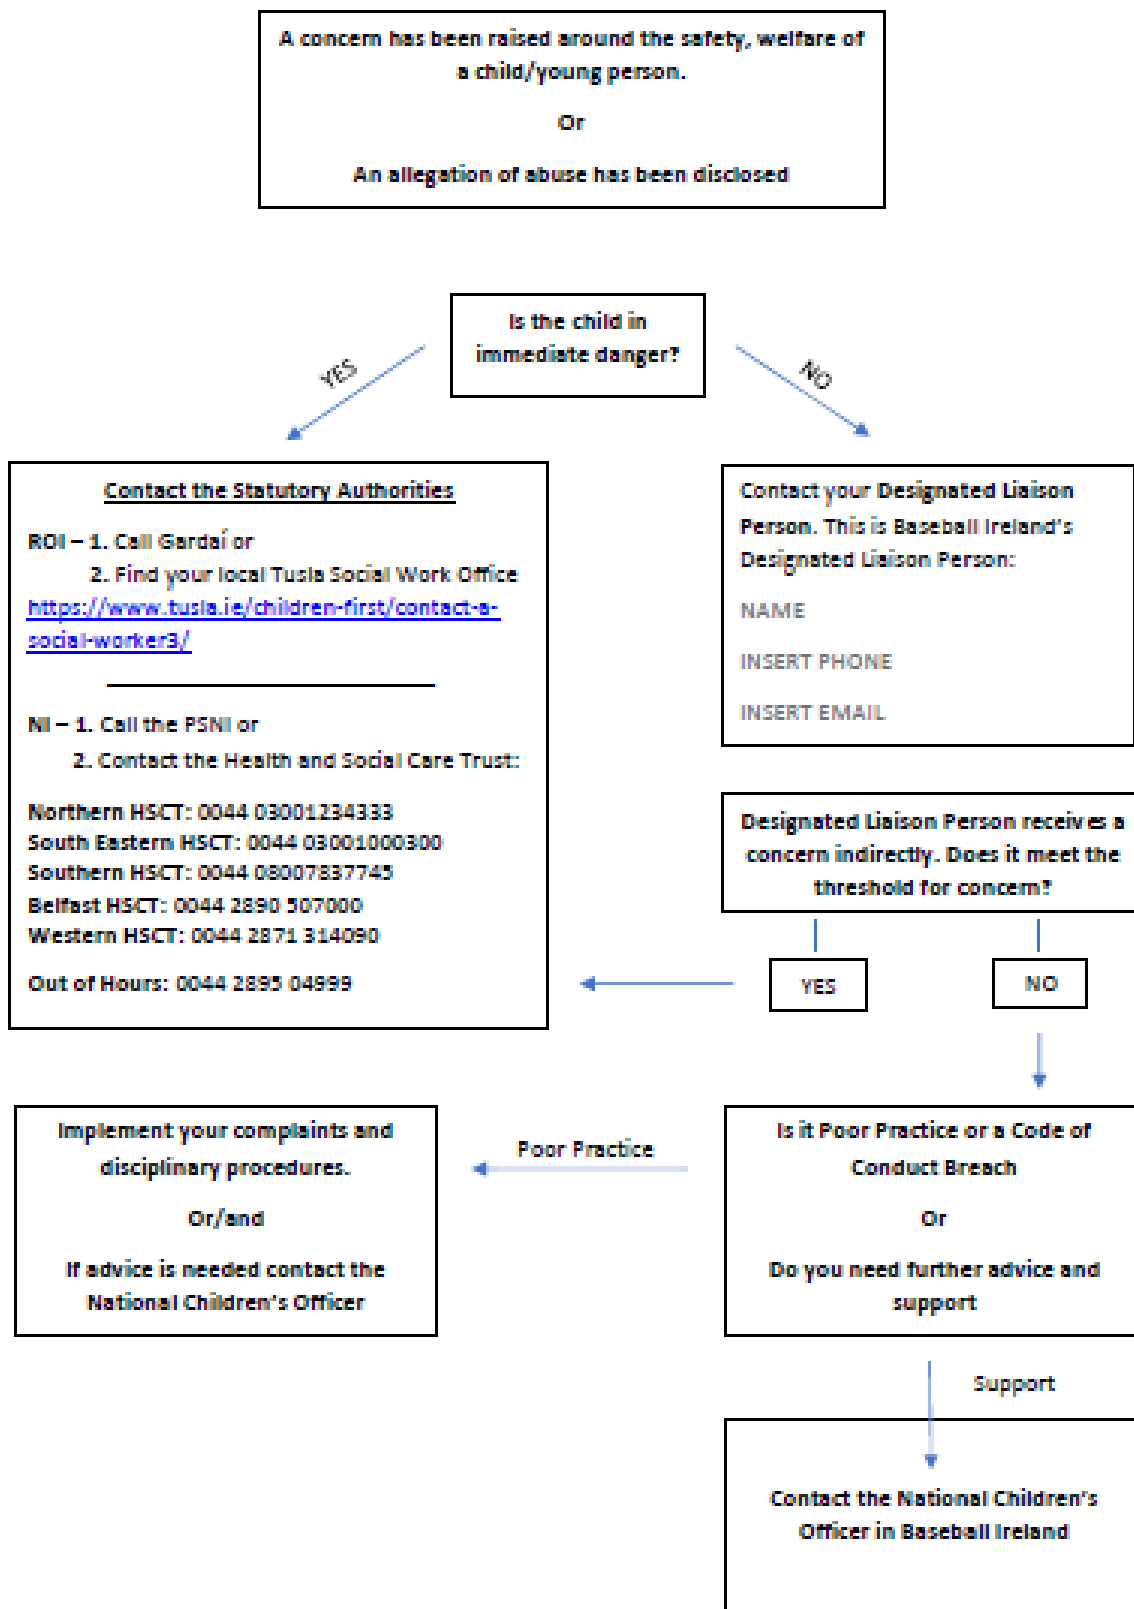

It is important to remember that if a child has chosen to disclose something to you it is because they trust you. It is important to note where a child has made a disclosure which meets the threshold of Reasonable Grounds for Concern you have a duty to report it – you cannot keep this a secret. Remember they are looking for help. Actions that can help you manage the situation include:

- Be sensitive – listen and facilitate vs interview.
- Stay calm – don't react emotionally.
- Take the child seriously.
- Don't promise to keep information a secret.
- Make no judgmental statements.
- Use open, non-specific questions.
- Explain – what happens next?

You should keep a record of the report and note dates, times, locations and contexts in which the incident/s occurred. The next step is to report the allegation to the Designated Liaison Person. If they do not find that it meets grounds for concern you can still choose to report to the statutory authorities yourself. If it is an emergency or you feel the child is in immediate danger you should contact the Gardaí/Police immediately.

IMPORTANT – You must employ a “needs to know” approach. This is confidential outside of the reporting structure and must only be passed on if the person needs to know.

Reporting Structure for Safeguarding Issues for Clubs (ROI/NI)

Garda Vetting and Access NI Policy

All members of Baseball Ireland who regularly work with children and vulnerable adults in a paid or voluntary capacity, and are 16 years+, must complete a vetting application. Baseball is an all-island sport there are two types of vetting that members may be required to undertake – Garda Vetting (ROI) and Access NI (ANI). Vetting provides information regarding all prosecutions, pending or completed and/or convictions in respect of an individual applicant to an organisation in the form of a document known as a Disclosure.

The National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012 to 2016 provides a statutory basis for the vetting of persons carrying out relevant work with children or vulnerable persons. Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (NI) Order 2017 is the legislation making it a legal requirement that a person barred from regulated activities is not recruited. An Access NI disclosure is obtained through the Disclosure and Barring Service (NI).

Vetting is conducted on behalf of registered organisations only and is not conducted for individual persons on a personal basis i.e., if you have been vetted for another organisation this will not suffice for Baseball Ireland. The Federation of Irish Sport will conduct Garda Vetting (ROI) and Northern Ireland Sports Forum will conduct Access NI (NI) on behalf of Baseball Ireland, however disclosures will be referred to Baseball Ireland for decision regarding suitability for the role applied for.

Currently the following roles within Baseball Ireland require Vetting (if carrying out regular activity with children and Vulnerable Adults):

- National Children's Officer
- Director of Coaching

- Umpires

Disclosures

All disclosures will be sent to the National Children's Officer for consideration. A disclosure provides information regarding all prosecutions, pending or completed and/or convictions in respect of an individual. This is used to make a decision regarding the suitability of an application for their role. Where information is received regarding an offence the applicant will be contacted to help the review group to make a decision. The review group will be made up of the National Children's Officer and two other non-conflicted board members. All information is strictly confidential and will remain so at all times. All decisions are made on an individual basis and self-disclosure will be taken into consideration. In the case of a person's application being unsuccessful the individual will be given the opportunity to withdraw from the role applied for.

In the case of a dispute in the information received on a vetting disclosure the applicant will need to contact the relevant vetting bureau as Baseball Ireland nor Federation of Irish Sport can make this query on their behalf.

Consideration is given to the recruitment of ex-offenders; a criminal record would not automatically prevent you from taking up a role with Baseball Ireland. The position applied for, the background pertaining to the offence and any other relevant information will be taken into account. This is in compliance with the Code of Practice (NI) issued by the Department of Justice (NI) in relation to the recruitment of ex-offenders.

Storing information

Vetting disclosures will be stored in accordance with GDPR, ANI Code of Practice and the Police Act 1997. All information will be kept in an online location by the National Children's officer, who will be the only person with access to this information. Disclosure information will not be shared with any person who is not authorised to receive it. The content of a disclosure will not be detailed on membership databases or spreadsheets.

Re-vetting

Baseball Ireland will re-vet members requiring vetting after three years. From time to time it may be required to have a shorter renewal period due to a concern arising from a disclosure. Under such circumstances this will be agreed with the applicant in advance.

GDPR

All safeguarding documents will be kept according to the requirements of the Irish Data Protection Act 1988, the amended act 2003, and the UK Data Protection Act 1998; and the Privacy and Electronic Communications Directive 2009/136/EC and the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 ("GDPR"). This includes requirements for the collecting, storage and requests of personal data. For general information on Data Protection consult the Data Protection Commissioner's Irish web site on www.dataprotectionact.ie or the UK Information Commissioner's web site www.ico.gov.uk. Exclusion in data protection includes: information about a data subject, which would be likely to affect the way crime is detected or prevented, catching or prosecuting offenders, the assessment of taxes or duty, need not be made available.

- Baseball Ireland can only ask an individual to provide details of convictions and cautions that Baseball Ireland are legally entitled to know about. Roles with Safeguarding Responsibilities

National Children's Officer (NCO)

As this is a voluntary role in Baseball Ireland the National Children's Officer is not mandated but is the relevant person and thus the lead on all safeguarding matters within the sport. The NCO carries out the duties of the national Designated Liaison Person and is responsible for ensuring the Children First Legislation requirements are met.

It is the role of the National Children's Officer to support the Board, Regions, Fastpitch Ireland and Clubs in safeguarding matters and update guidance and policy as needed. The NCO will advocate for young people in the sport and ensure their welfare and protection remains paramount. If needed, they will also act as an advisor and be present in complaints and disciplinary matters involving a member U18.

Club Safeguarding Officer (CSO)

All clubs with member's U18 years must have a Club Safeguarding Officer. This person must be Vetted and Safeguarded to the appropriate level to assume the role. It is their role to ensure all necessary club members are vetted and possess the correct level of Safeguarding; they will provide advice and support where necessary. They are the voice of young people in the club and will advocate that policy is in place and adhered to. The CSO will complete the Child Safeguarding Statement and Risk Assessment and keep up to date, with the support of the committee.

Designated Liaison Person (DLP)

The Child Safeguarding Officer will act as the Designated Liaison Person and will be responsible for reporting any concerns or allegations to the Statutory Authorities. They will also advise and lead on matters of poor practice, concerning young people, at club level.

Coach / Manager

A Coach / Manager plays a vital role in the sporting experience of young people. It is vital that they are aware of the position of power they possess and ensure a safe relationship with the athlete. The welfare of the young person is paramount to any competitive gain. The Coach / Manager should be Safeguarded and Vetted and understand how to work with young people in a way that is safe, fun and inclusive. Often Coaches / Managers are seen as trusted adults and young people may choose to disclose a concern or abuse; it is important that you know how to respond correctly.

Umpire

Although not directly responsible for U18 members, in their role, umpires are in a position of power and thus must also be Vetted and Safeguarded. It is important that they acknowledge this influence and are also prepared for potential disclosures from a young person.
